1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-10, 12-21, 31-34 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-6 of U.S.

Patent No. 6,817,630. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because although the '630 patent only has method claims applicants' article claims (as well, of course, the method claims) are seen to closely mirror the claimed method of the patent. As to the method claims themselves such slightly differing limitations in applicants' claim 1 as a "thermoplastic polymer adhesive" and the fact that the applied adhesive is "in direct contact with each covering layer and the respective printed side of the card core" are believed to be at the very least within the skill of the art in view of the slightly broader language found in the '630 patent's corresponding language found, e.g. in claim 1 in steps d) and e). Finally, with respect to the dependent claims such elements as the specific additives and amounts thereof, the various thicknesses of certain layers and the various lamination temperature of either the process (claim 33) or the article formed thereby (claim 34) are each believed to be at most obvious modifications to one of ordinary skill.

4. In claim 6, line 6, delete "a".
